OLD WORLD NEWS.

LORILLARD'S PAROLE THE WINNER OF THE GOLD CUP.

Intercolonial War in Zululand--The Afghanistan Treaty Signed--Eruption of Etna.

LONDON, May 30.—Parole won the race for the Epsom Gold Cup; Alchemist second, and Primrose third.

The great, three-years-old filly race run for the Oaks Stakes at the Epsom summer meeting resulted in a victory for the favorite, Lord Falmouth's bay filly, Wheel of Fortune, the winner of the thousand guineas at New Market at the first spring meeting. W. I. Anson's bay filly, Coromandel II, got second place, and the Duke of Westminster's brown filly Adventure, third. There were eight runners. Distance one mile and a half.

THE TREATY WITH AFGHANISTAN.
A dispatch from Simla says that the treaty between Great Britain and Afghanistan was ratified to-day. A salute of thirty-one guns was fired in honor of the event.

ZULULAND IN TROUBLE.

Civil war has broken out in Zululand. Matoma, a powerful chief, has resolved to surrender to the British.

ERUPTION OF ETNA.

The eruption of Etna increases in force, and balls of fire are thrown to a great height and burst like rockets.

A Card From the Secretary of State.
Correspondence of the News.

RALEIGH, May 30.—The statement that the Attorney General has anything to do with the proceedings instituted against the forces that seized a bill as an act of the General Assembly of North Carolina without the signatures of the presiding officers of that body which is made in the News of this morning is incorrect. The Attorney General has no power to institute any such proceeding to be instituted against me for the simple reason that he was of opinion and had so declared that my refusal to receive the school bill and publish it as one of the statutes of the State in its present condition perfectly coincided with the law and with the obligation it imposes upon me in the premises.

Very respectfully,
W. L. SANDERS
Secretary of State.

CHAPEL HILL.

Another Error has Gotten Out, but is Corrected by Our Correspondent.
Correspondence of the News.

CHAPEL HILL, May 29.—The impression has gotten out in some portions of the State that the Baptist sermon was delivered on Sunday, the 27th day of June. This is not the case. The Rev. Moses D. Hoge is expected to arrive at Chapel Hill on Tuesday evening, and to preach the sermon before the graduating class either on Wednesday or Thursday.

Wednesday morning, Senator Allen G. Thurman will deliver the address before the two Societies. On the same day the Hon. S. F. Phillips will deliver the address before the Alumni.

Wednesday night general addresses will be made by the representatives of the two societies.

On Thursday morning the senior speaking will take place after which diplomas will be presented, reports read, etc.

In addition to the above, on Tuesday evening, after the adjournment of the Societies, there will be a hop; and one on Wednesday evening.

On Thursday evening the grand dress ball, given complimentary to the graduating class, will be an appropriate commencement of the round of festivities.

Let every one come. A larger crowd is expected than has been present since President Johnson's visit to our Alma Mater.

An opportunity for enjoyment is presented which a life time will scarce offer again.

Rooms at the hotel have been engaged by ladies from Philadelphia, Richmond, South Carolina and Georgia.

Senator Thurman is certainly coming.

Effects of Perfume of Flowers on Health.
Cassell's Magazine.

Contrary to a popular belief, it has been recently found by an Italian professor that flowers exert a decidedly beneficial influence on the atmosphere by converting the oxygen of the air into that powerful oxidizing agent, ozone. The essences found by him to produce the most marked effects are those which are least volatile, such as chrysanthemum, lavender, mint, juniper, lemon, fennel and bergamot, several of which are ingredients in the refreshing can de Cologne. Anise, nutmeg, thyme, camphor, cinnamon, hyssop, etc., are also ozone-producing agents.

Charlotte observes.

Gaston has been noted for years for its ability to produce a very large quantity of a very excellent quality of corn whisky. The people in many portions of the country had made a living by manufacturing and exporting this article, which, however, was imposed, they went on distilling all the same, only removing the distilled off the roads, or higher up the branches, to keep out of the way of the watchful revenue men. But blocking was eventually stopped, and Gaston has been in some difficulty ever since, but better than last year. The retail trade, again, is the least affected by returning good times, but the farmers are now hard at work and have little time to spend in shopping. Building is going on rapidly, especially in the western States, even appear to feel crowded.

There is plenty of work everywhere, as one correspondent says, for muscle and capital.

The Liquid County--A Demand for Corn.

The Chromo Dodge.

Philadelphia Times.

Mr. Whitelaw Reid, the great comic journalist of New York, is offering a $1000 reward to the man who has been scared away from the bulls by bristling bayonets." These chromo dodges have deceived a great many people in their time, but they are getting to be pretty well understood now.

He might perhaps find a citizen who had never had his house robbed; he wouldn't find that citizen going to bed with his front door wide open on that account, however, on the assurance of the burglar that he had no intention of going in would hardly secure confidence.

A Glorious Chance for the Doctor.
Courier-Journal.

Let our Northern friends be cheerful; should the colored immigrants spread the yellow fever among us, Governor-General Macaulay will have Kenton and his Lieutenant and go their rescue. It would be a glorious opportunity for the doctor to pile coals upon the heads of those who have so wickedly slandered him.

No Science Needed.
Boston Transcript.

A sober-faced man, dressed in a modest black suit, sat in at the town clerk's and, quietly doffing his cap, inquired, "This is where license for dogs are procured, I believe, sir?" He was informed that such was the fact. He went on: "I have a dog that has been in the family a great many years, and we have naturally made arrangements to get it 'fit' for two dollars," broke in the gentlemanly clerk, "if a male." "But it is not a male dog--at least, I--" "Well, then, I'll tell you an even 't'--scarcifying a few minutes, "there is your license, sir; you can fill in the writer's name!" Taking the paper and examining it carefully, the man in black said, perplexedly, "There is some mistake here. The dog is not a female, nor is it fat." "broken in the other, 'not a male,' not a female," Said the man in black again: "Anticipating some misunderstanding, I have brought the dog with me," producing an off-fashioning male dog, "and you can tell me nothing about a dog is necessary." There was just the merest glimmer of a twinkle in the eye of the sober-faced man as he said this. No license was needed, he was told, and he departed. The gentlemanly dog-keeper, however, had got to the landing below before he brought his fist down on his desk like a trumpery, with the very expressive accompaniment of "Solid, by thunder!"

REVIVING BUSINESS.

The Mental Ascendancy that was Achieved by Secretary Fish Over "The Man on Horseback."

A man never lived who personally possessed in a less degree the qualities which inspire enthusiasm. The tact of enchantment and the manipulations of politicians have lifted him into a hero in the minds of those who know him least, only proves how marvelous are the powers of the human imagination.

Fatally, for such glamour, I know Grant well. It was my misfortune to live for eight years in the very thick of his administration. It was impossible that I should be mistaken in its character. An administration more corrupt never cursed a country. This was true while Grant himself was, at least, negatively an honest man. He did not pick and steal himself, though he harbored and trusted thieves. He had that overweening love of money of all that money brings, that nearly always marks the man deficient in the native power of money-winning. Such men poverty makes sordid. The man of substance, the natural money-getter, the man of inherited fortune, are the ones who fill his imagination, make his chosen society, if not his trusted friends.

Such men were always nearest and dearest to Grant. Stoild as he seemed, stout as he was, all discerned the towering figure in him when they met, but to touch his heart, forever the nerve of his inordinate self-love. His all-absorbing activity did not prove him to be by nature selfish beyond his kind. Conditions and circumstance had quickened his natural fondness for money. The man put off, baffled by fortune, is the man whom sudden success overcomes. He is a man who never learns the highest and finest use of power. As President of the United States, he was a failure.

The sympathies of the class-seekers, the place-keepers, who surrounded him, despite his reputation for pugnacity, found it perfectly easy, by feeding his vanity, to hold this man in thrall.

They told him that he was "the greatest soldier in the world" when the final star in the triumphant that was to blaze for all posterity--Washington, Lincoln and Grant--that empire was in his destiny, and that he was to live and reign "chief" if not his chosen society, if not his trusted friends.

Grant, however, was not quite so simple as it was natural for him to be all this, to gloat and swell with self-importance in that belief. In its full acceptance he left this country, expecting all rights that all Europe, America, and "over" and "beyond" him, could give him.

He had a strong desire to be a man of wealth of mind. It may drop far short of his mark; it may reach but one human mind; but, wherever it fails, it shall be the priceless seed of truth.

The Railroad Meeting.

Goldsboro Messenger.

The adjourned meeting for the purpose of considering the railroad subscription question was held on Saturday night.

In the absence of Mr. A. J. Galloway, the chairman, W. F. Kornegay, Esq., was called to the chair and Messrs. Avery and Bonitz acted as secretaries.

After the organization was completed, Mr. Avery, on behalf of the committee, reported the following resolutions:

In the opinion of the committee it will be impossible to raise the money required for building the railroads of Goldsboro, Snow Hill, and Greenville by individual and town subscriptions; that it will be absolutely necessary to resort to subscriptions on the part of three counties, Wayne, Greene and Pitt, and to have a force of about 5,000 men to lay the roadbed, making the atres paid debt, making my communication as little personal as is faithfully performed of that duty will prevail.

I am overwhelmed with the force of work of mine. It may drop far short of my mark; it may reach but one human mind; but, wherever it fails, it shall be the priceless seed of truth.

The VICTIMS OF PARTY BANCOR,

or party exigencies?" If so why did we also reduce the appropriation of the Deaf and Dumb Asylum, presided over by an excellent gentleman and a Democrat, also a member of the Senate?

Resolved, That the Commissioners of the town of Goldsboro be requested to submit a like proposition to the voters of the said town for authority to subscribe the sum of ten thousand to the capital stock of the railroad; that it be addressed to him in his office, and that he be requested to have it signed by him.

IMMIGRATION.

All intelligent readers have paid more attention to the subject so important to the world's progress and which will have such an abiding effect upon commercial interests as the proposed Indo-European railway. The railway down the Indus Valley (which a letter from Delhi, India, to the News, published in this column a few days since, announced as completed) will have the effect to make Kurrachee instead of Bombay the European port of India and to shorten the time from England to India to 18 (eighteen) days. The proposed and long discussed Euphrates Valley Railway from some point on the Levant to the head of the Persian Gulf would further shorten the time down to 11 or 12 days, and of course strengthen the hold of England over our great cotton producing competitor, India. Such are the intimate relations between countries, brought about by commerce, that the question of building this railroad is one affecting all countries, but after England herself has sprung a great deal of our national prosperity.

America may almost be considered a land of immigrants. It was here our forefathers came to escape the oppression of the mother country. They were the first immigrants. They were the bold pioneers who conquered the red man and drove him far away to the setting sun. It was their strong arms that cut away the thick forests and let the light of the sun shine upon the earth. It was their courage, and their sacrifices, that wrested power from the hands of tyranny, erected the temple of liberty and invited the oppressed of all lands to come to the land of the free and the home of the brave.

It has only been since the Revolutionary War and the adoption of the Constitution that immigration to this country became a matter of uneasiness to the Governments of Europe. The effort to establish a Republican Government, disengaged and ridiculed by the old world, being a fixed fact, and thoroughly established in the minds of the disengaged and unhappy foreigners, their eyes turned with anxious hopes to the land of the west, where the tree of liberty bloomed and every man worshipped God under his own vine and fig tree. Ireland, Germany, England, Scotland, France and other monarchies suffered an exodus in the emigration of hundreds of thousands of men and women who have swelled the population of this Government and added immensely to the material wealth and prosperity of the country.

But the benefits of immigration have been felt and seen, with little exception, in only one portion of the Union. The Northern section has mostly reaped the benefits.

In 1879 there were in the States and Territories 5,567,229 foreign born naturalized citizens. We give the following table to show what little benefit the South has received from this source. The number of foreign born naturalized citizens was in 1870 in the following states:

Connecticut	113,639
Illinois	515,108
Indiana	114,474
Iowa	204,692
Massachusetts	353,519
Michigan	268,829
Minnesota	100,957
New Jersey	188,943
New York	1,138,553
Ohio	372,403
Pennsylvania	545,309
Wisconsin	364,406
Total	4,465,626

This is the number of foreign born citizens in 12 Northern States. We now exhibit a table of 12 Southern States, showing the number of foreign born citizens in them in 1870:

Alabama	9,062
Arkansas	5,020
Florida	4,47
Georgia	11,127
Kentucky	63,308
Louisiana	61,827
Maryland	83,413
Mississippi	11,191
North Carolina	32,49
South Carolina	8,074
Tennessee	19,316
Virginia	13,759
Total	205,983

These 12 Southern States, with a territory larger in area and most of them older in history, have in all their borders a foreign population of 4,171,533 less than the Northern States mentioned. If you will compare Wisconsin, which has a total population of 1,664,670 with North Carolina, which has a total population of 1,071,516, we will find that Wisconsin has a foreign population of 364,406, while North Carolina has only 32,49, an excess in the former State of 361,470. These immigrants are worth something to the State outside of the important fact of their productive value. They bring with them money and other articles of value, and if you put them at a value to the State as to what they have when they arrive at $500 per head (and we know that the average is much greater), we find that the State of Wisconsin, which has nearly the same population of North Carolina receives from her immigrants the sum of $1,822,405, while North Carolina only receives $15,145.

There is then a source of wealth and prosperity, that the Southern States have totally neglected; and especially North Carolina, as she has fewer foreigners than any other State in the Union. We believe our people should wake up to the importance of this matter, and much greater efforts than any yet made should be put forth to bring immigrants into our State. No State can surpass North Carolina in the fertility of her soil, the salubrity of her climate and in the wealth and richness of her mineral resources. The fault is in our people, and we must wake up and look to our interests.

THE present mania for vitriol-throwing, which has within the past few weeks developed itself in New York city, shows the necessity of quickly and resolutely punishing all novel means of personal assault. It is a singular fact that the human mind is strongly drawn by what is relatively new and untried in criminal action. Several women have been arrested for making assaults of this character, but no one has yet been tried and sentenced for it, and hence the extent of punishment which such an act deserves is not known, and can exercise no deterring effect. The result of such an assault is always disfigurement and usually blindness for life, and, therefore, the decision of the district attorney in classifying it as an assault with intent to kill, in spite of the protests of interested counsel, does not seem excessive, and, if conviction can be secured under it, it will probably act as a warning of sufficient force to prevent in the future such displays of revengeful spirit.

THE GENUINE DR. C. McLANE'S Celebrated American WORM SPECIFIC OR VERMIFUGE.

SYMPTOMS OF WORMS.

The countenance is pale and leaden-colored, with occasional flushes, or a circumscribed spot on one cheek; the eyes become dull, the pupil dilate, and the iris appears yellowish; the nose is swollen, and sometimes bleeds; a swelling of the upper lip; occasional headache, withnumbing or throbbing of the ears; an unusual secretion of saliva; slimy or furred tongue; breath very foul, particularly in the morning; appetite variable, sometimes voracious, with a gnawing sensation of the stomach, at others, entirely gone; fleeting pains in the stomach; occasional nausea and vomiting; violent pains throughout the abdomen; bowels irregular, at times constipated; stools slimy, not unfrequently tinged with blood; belly swollen and hard; urine turbid; respiration occasionally difficult, and accompanied by hiccup; cough sometimes dry and convulsive; uneasy and disturbed sleep, with grinding of the teeth; temper variable, but generally irritable, &c.

Whenever the above symptoms are found to exist, DR. C. McLANE'S VERMIFUGE will certainly effect a cure.

IT DOES NOT CONTAIN MERCURY.

The genuine DR. C. McLANE'S VERMIFUGE bears the signatures of C. McLane and Fleming Bros. on the wrapper.

DR. C. McLANE'S LIVER PILLS

are not recommended as a remedy "for all the ills that flesh is heir to," but in affections of the liver, and in all Bilious Complaints, Dyspepsia and Sick Headache, or diseases of that character, they stand without a rival.

The lethargy of a monarchy as compared with the vigor of free institutions was never more clearly contrasted. To connect the Pacific coast with the rest of the Union we have built one railroad of 2,000 miles and are now building two more of the same length, while Great Britain is hesitating and delaying for years to build a railway of 1,000 miles which would shorten the distance between her and her most important possession, whose retention by her is jeopardized by a failure to build the road and whose loss would inflict a deep and irreparable wound upon the prosperity of England. The News coincides with the opinion expressed in the Edinburgh Review for January, 1879, that "no one will doubt that if the interest of New York in the matter were the quarter of that of London, very few months would be allowed to elapse before goods were carried by rail from Aleppo to the mouth of the Orontes."

THE hotel elevator threatens to become as effective an ally of the undertaking business as the ruthless drug clerk used to be. Only a few weeks ago a lady living at the Tremont House, in Chicago, stepped partially out of the elevator, and when from some cause unknown it began to descend with great rapidity. Before she could be extricated from the opening the descending elevator came down on her and killed her. On Tuesday last four servant girls of the St. Omer Hotel, in New York, anxious to save themselves the trouble of going down six flights of stairs, crowded themselves into the trunk elevator, in which they had been expressly forbidden to ride. The rope broke and the elevator fell, throwing the girls partially out. It rebounded ten feet and fell again, this time on their limbs. They were terribly mangled and may not recover. Familiarity with the elevator is apt to breed contempt, and contempt of danger is likely to have but one result.

A DISEASE closely resembling yellow fever has broken out in Indianapolis. Its identity with the great destroyer is locally denied, and it is to be hoped that the denial is based on good grounds.

We would remind the Republican philanthropists of Indiana, who have been importuning negroes from the far South into the State for political purposes, that they are engaged in a very perilous business. These negroes bring their infected clothing with them, and will very probably distribute the yellow fever through the State when the summer is further advanced. If such is the result the people of Indiana can blame nobody but the Republican leaders, who, in their insane greed for power, deliberately import yellow fever germs and jeopardize the whole population of Indiana.

SECRETARY SHERMAN has doubtless discovered by this time that anything that is put upon the market, no matter in what form or under what restrictions, is sure to find its market level. So long as the four per cent. certificates are worth speculating in, they will be largely absorbed by speculators, and all endeavors to reserve them for special classes of purchasers will be in vain.

THE communication in this morning's NEWS relative to Dr. Grissom's report is good subject matter to peruse when the thermometer stands at 96. The peppy character of the article together with the natural heat would suggest thoughts of lemonade and palm-leaf fans and that a portion of the appropriation be applied for this object.

THE present mania for vitriol-throwing, which has within the past few weeks developed itself in New York city, shows the necessity of quickly and resolutely punishing all novel means of personal assault. It is a singular fact that the human mind is strongly drawn by what is relatively new and untried in criminal action. Several women have been arrested for making assaults of this character, but no one has yet been tried and sentenced for it, and hence the extent of punishment which such an act deserves is not known, and can exercise no deterring effect. The result of such an assault is always disfigurement and usually blind-

Babies.

We love babies and everybody who does love babies. No man has music in his heart who doesn't love babies. Babies were made to be loved, especially girl babies when they grow up. A man is not worth a shuck who hasn't a baby, and the same rule applies to a woman. A baby is a spring day in winter; a hot house in cold winter; a ray of sunshine and bright world; and if you are sure it is yours, it is a bushel of sunshine no matter how cold the weather. A man cannot be a hopeless case so long as he loves babies one at a time. We love babies all the more, now how dirty. We have babies because they are babies, and because their mothers were lovely and lovely women. Our love of babies is only bounded by the number of babies in the world. We always look for babies to do with anxiety and paternal affection; we do, indeed, we do. We always have had tender feelings for mothers that have no babies and don't expect any. Women always look very downhearted who have no babies; and men who have no babies are good for nothing—just as babies. Babies are a productive substance, and we intend to talk more about babies in the future. We intend to tell all our friends if they want to be happy in this world they must have a baby in the house—one of their own is preferable, but a young man's son will do. In this view of the case they are all the while laying golden eggs. A man is hardly ever worth three red cents until he gets a wife and a baby. They push him to it. While he's making enough for their support, he is sure to have something over.

Lost a Fortune.

Nevada Reville.

A sanguine prospector was sinking a hole in Iowa gopher one morning. When he came to his shaft he found therein a dead rat. He thought it was a good omen, for dead rats are very scarce in Iowa gopher and being a superstitious man he was inclined to look upon it as an evil omen, which idea troubled him so that he could not work and after many vain efforts, finally three days later, he gave up and concluded that he would go to town and try to divert his mind a little. Accordingly he went to town, where he got as drunk as a lampighter and continued so for several days, during which time some men who had started a hole close to his shaft struck mineral and surveyed him in, whereby he lost a fortune.

A Little Horse Sense.

N. Y. Star.

We are free to say that what the average Republican editor in this city needs to enable him to paddle his canoe with credit through the various channels of social politics, is a little of Hon. Hugh J. Hastings' "horse-sense."

As Still as a Crowbar.

Washington Post.

We feel entirely authorized to announce that the Democratic spine is as stiff as a crowbar.

LIVER

This important organ weighs but about three pounds, and all the blood in a living person about the body, excepting the brain, flows once every half hour, to have the bile and other impurities strained or filtered from it before it is sent to the brain. The bile of the Liver becomes corrupt if it is not separated from the blood, but carried through the veins to the liver, and in trying to escape with the bile, it carries with it a certain yellow or dirty brown color. The stomach becomes disordered, and Dyspepsia, gastritis, Colitis, &c., are the result. Jaundice, Chills, Malaria Fevers, Flu, Sick and Sour Stomach, and general debility follow. The Liver is the great reservoir of energy, and recovery for rapid loss causes the liver to draw from one to two ounces of bile every time it contracts. It is the cause of a fever in excess of bile, and the effect is even a few drops upon yellow complexion or a brown dirty skin, which is the first symptom of the disease being the first symptom to disappear. The cure of all bilious diseases and Liver complaint is made certain by taking Liver as an accidens. Homeopathic Accidens are according to Dr. H. C. White, "the best way to cure in twenty minutes, and no disease that arises from the Liver can exist if a fair trial is given." SOLD AS A SUBSTITUTE FOR PILLS BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

LUNGS

The fatality of Consumption or Throat and Lung Diseases, which sweep to the grave at least one-third of all death's victims, arises from the Opium and Morphine treatment of the disease. The cost of a death goes on $1000, will be paid if Opium or Morphine, or any preparation of Opium, Morphine or Paris Extract of Opium, or any other drug, is used.

Concord Syrup, which has cured people who are living to-day, has one remaining failing, and that is, it is not a cure for Consumption, but it can be used in cases where Consumption is incurable. Gloria Flower Conjur Syrup will cure it when all other remedies fail. It is a safe, simple, and effective Remedy for Consumption.

Asthma, Bronchitis, & all diseases of the throat and lungs. Read the testimonials of the Hon. Alexander H. Stephens, S. S. Smith, & G. W. Brown of Ga. BLOOD

Grave mistakes are made in the treatment of all diseases that arise from poison in the blood. Not one case of Scrofula, Syphilis, &c., in the world, can be cured by any other method than by the use of Metal in some form. Mercury rots the bones, and the diseases it produces are worse than the disease itself.

Dr. PEMBERTON'S STILLINGIA, the original of all the new medical preparations, is the best Remedy for all diseases of the blood, & especially for those of the heart, & lungs, & kidneys, & &c. It is a true Remedy for the use of Metal in some form. Mercury rots the bones, and the diseases it produces are worse than the disease itself.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

"If I only had wings," said a lover, "my dear, For Leadville I'd quickly vamose." And she answered, "Why, sweet, looky here, If you'd wings, you'd just be a goose."

—Yesterday was a legal holiday, consequently market quotations are none.

—The Board of Aldermen met last night, but the business transacted was of little importance, and an early adjournment took place.

—It is about time for the Sunday school picnics. The roll of scholars attached to each of the Sunday schools is visibly swelling.

—The five cent counter of Heller Bros. is one of the leading attractions of the city. Most everything or anything for 5 cents.

—The colored companies turned out yesterday evening to participate in the decoration ceremony at the Federal cemetery.

—All of Judge Strong's law class will apply for license on Monday, except one very conscientious youth who refrains for very fear.

—A crowd of gentlemen assemble in front of Ennis' book store every evening to observe the little canary birds as they are taken in from the piazza just opposite.

—A colored child was knocked down yesterday morning by a run-away team belonging to Messrs. Jones, Green & Powell, but escaped with a few bruises. The damage done was little.

—The Raleigh colored minstrel troupe that went to Columbia on the excursion did not meet with the extraordinary success as they expected. They played to a house of nine, and six of these were d.

—Mr. John Armstrong treated his Sunday school class to a day in the woods, fishing the fishes yesterday. His class is comprised of nine very fine boys, who can enjoy a day under the shades of the country forest without indulging in any unnatural spirits. Mr. Macom L. Parham, the popular clerk at Parham Bros., accompanied the party.

—Messrs. Yeargan, Peter, took the management of the 5 Miles End Theatre on Monday. It was advertised in the News Tuesday. Since that time they have made sales of 200 dozen to two different customers, besides numerous other smaller orders. They are decidedly progressive, and are generally what we give the News credit for the assistance rendered in driving their business.

—Swearing Like a Sailor.
Oh, for a society for the suspension of profanity. We heard a youngster curse like an "old tar" the other day.—Goldboro Messenger.

—The following call has to be taken for an example of profanity? As a class they are not nearly as profane as many that have never seen salt water. More cursing may be heard in a single day in an ordinary village street than would be among a crew of five hundred sailors in a week.

—Three Important Facts.
First, no lawyer in the State can afford to be without "Tourge's Digest of Cited Cases." It will help to prepare a brief in an hour.

Second, no school in the State ought to be without "Moore's History of North Carolina."

Third, no person will fail to enjoy the reading of North Carolina's greatness as told in Moore's History.

Alfred Williams & Co., publishers, Raleigh.

—Personal.
Col. John D. Whitford, of New Bern, is in the city.

—H. W. T. Dyer is in the city, staying at the Dorothea House.

Major R. H. Bradley and party went fishing in Little River, Johnston county, a few days ago, and returned to the city yesterday. They caught seventeen trout, which was small fry. The party also "got wet."

—Capt. W. L. Thornburg, the efficient Secretary and Treasurer of the North Carolina Railroad Company, was in the city yesterday on business connected with the company.

—Mr. Dr. Blackhall has been presented with some very choice specimens of West India fruits and products. A sheet of tapices or bread corn, just as they subsist on in that tropical climate, is most interesting. The present was made by Col. Wm. Shaw, of Washington, D. C.

—A Good Example.
In consideration of the long and warm days and the exceedingly short nights, our bookstores have all agreed to close their places of business every evening at half past six o'clock. This arrangement will go into effect on Monday, June 1st, and continue until August 15th, Saturday nights excepted. In a few days the weather will commence to be oppressively hot, and the clerks will be on their feet six o'clock in the morning through the day will be in need of an early release from work in the evening in order to recuperate for the duties of the coming day. We hope our merchants will follow the example, and consent to relieve those in their employ from work at least by eight o'clock every evening, except Saturday, during the next two months, and if the announcement is made known we assure the public that we will do their bidding before night, in order that the clerks may obtain this rest.

—The Decoration Yesterday.
Quite a number of the Federal soldiers residing in the city, together with about 300 colored denizens, met at the Federal cemetery yesterday at 5 o'clock for the purpose of decorating the graves of the dead Union soldiers. The occasion was enlivened by the presence of the colored military of the city, numbering about 100, who marched behind the colored band. Mr. Tupper and Mr. Tourgee were called on for speeches, and made a few impromptu remarks. The crowd them began to distribute their flowers over the graves, after which the militia fired a few rounds of blank cartridges. The procession formed and marched back to Wilmington and Hargett streets where it disbanded.

—Chairs.
May be planted in May, June and July. For sale by W. H. Dodd.

The Dying Man Recovered.

Mr. Wallens, the particulars of whose sudden illness almost to death were stated in this paper yesterday, has been gradually improving since yesterday morning at 2 o'clock, when the change for the better set in.

His recovery is due to effective means resorted to by Dr. Hubert Haywood and the thorough knowledge he seemed to have of the case is very much complimented by all who were acquainted with the details of his illness. Mr. Wallens' own life is in Dr. Haywood.

This case has been a very strange one, and the cause as yet is not ascertained.

The only recollection Mr. Wallens has of drinking anything with a glass of lemonade about a mile just before going to the City Hotel. He is now pronounced out of danger, and is expected to go to his home to-day.

Accepts the Invitation.

It having been expressed the desire of the young framers that the Hon. A. S. Merrimon should deliver the address at the Oxford Orphan Asylum on the 24th of June, the following correspondence ensued, which fully explains itself:

OFFICE OF G. M. OF MASON'S IN N. C., Raleigh, May 24, A. L. 1879.

Hon. A. S. Merrimon, City:

DEAR SIR:—In bel aff of the Masonic Fraternity of North Carolina I request you to deliver an address at the Oxford Orphan Asylum on St. John's Day, June 24th.

I am aware you are not a Mason, but conceive it will be none the less your pleasure to aid in the support of this magnificent charity.

It exists no Masonic qualification for admission, it is selected by the charters of all assemblies and orders, and since there has been a recent appropriation by the State toward its maintenance, it is deserved especially fitting that one who is so fully identified with North Carolina's history and her progress as yourself should speak in behalf of the Orphan Asylum.

The State officials and other distinguished persons have expressed their intention to be present, and a large concourse of citizens is expected to attend.

I am, very respectfully yours,

W. M. COX, Grand Master.

RALEIGH, May 29, 1879.

Hon. W. M. Cox, Grand Master, &c., Raleigh, N. C.

DEAR SIR:—I have received your letter of the 24th inst., in behalf of the Masonic Fraternity of North Carolina I request you to deliver an address at the Oxford Orphan Asylum on the occasion of the celebration of St. John's Day, the 24th proximo.

I honor your noble Brotherhood for establishing such a noble cause, and shall be glad to assist you in every way, and share my spirit in cordily in the spirit that upholds it. It is indeed, as you suggest, my duty, and as well that of every friend of humanity to join earnestly in promoting its further success, endeavoring in particular to greater fulfillings and perpetuating its existence. It will afford me substantial pleasure to do so whenever and wherever I can. I cheerfully accept your invitation to deliver an address, and will endeavor to discharge the duty assigned to me.

With friendly salutations,

I am, &c., yours truly,

A. S. MERRIMON.

The authors of Pinafore are coming to this country next Fall. And it is strongly suspected that the manager of their tour will be the Reading Times man, who has translated Little Buttercup's song into such frightful language as this: "She has a mich kla Buttercup; Kringelrood, Kidney afflictions, &c., I take pleasure in recommending its use in these complaints. An old and well-tried remedy."

Rev. John F. Mayne, Theological Seminary, Columbia, S. C., writes: "An attack with that terrible disease, Diabetes; am using the Seven Springs Mass with considerable degree of relief; it is the only remedy I have yet found to suit my case; want to continue it as usual a cure is effected if possible; I will write of the enclosed P.
